TOOK A LITTLE JUMP.

Salt Mackerel Sell at $14.25 per Barrel as They Lay.

Sch. Rob Roy at Boston from Southeast Georges.

Sch. Rob Roy, Capt. Maurice Whalen, arrived at Boston this morning from the south-east part of Georges, with 7000 large fresh mackerel and 63 barrels of salt mackerel. The fresh mackerel sold at 15 cents each.

This morning, eight vessels with salt mackerel were at this port, all from Georges, some with big trips and some with small.

The market strengthened somewhat suddenly and sales were made freely at $14.25 per barrel, as the fish lay, barrel for barrel.

The fare of sch. Lucania the, largest of the lot, 306 barrels, sold to the Gorton Pew Fisheries Company at that figure, and the fare of sch. Cynthia, 220 barrels, selling to the Gloucester Mackerel Company at the same figure. The fares of sch. Lena and Maud and Victor sold to Davis Bros. those of schs. Constellation and Avalon to William H. Jordan & Co., and that of sch. Norma to the Gloucester Mackerel Co., all at the same figure.

The captains report that no fish have been taken on the southwest part of Georges since a week ago Monday and that none have been seen off Chatham since last Friday. The captains say that the fish have entirely disappeared at both these places, perhaps not for good, but for a time at least.

Yesterday afternoon, fully 50 sail of the fleet came up by the Highlands and those which did not come across the bay to this port made Provincetown for harbor, there being quite a stiff breeze blowing.

GETTING WORRIED.

Newfoundland Fishermen Fear Vessels May Bring Full Crews.

A despatch from St. John's, N. F., says: "Serious apprehension exists among herring fishermen here over the prospect that the American herring fishing vessels may come to Newfoundland waters with full crews next fall instead of taking on men after arrival here. About 800 Newfoundland fishermen were employed last season aboard the American boats, and it is estimated that they earned a total of $100,000.

"Non-employment this year, the fishermen say, would be disastrous, and some of the residents of Bay of Islands will go to Gloucester to join the American vessels there rather than run the risk of missing employment after the arrival of the fleet in these waters.

"Government officials, however, contend that the American captains cannot profitably bring full crews to the coast."

LOBSTERS GALORE.

Big Catch Made on Banks Landed at Boston.

First Fare To Be Taken So Far from Shore.

For the first time in the annals of the fishing industry lobsters have been caught on the banks, and now a new source for the supply has been discovered more than 75 miles off Cape Elizabeth.

The sch. J. R. Atwood, Capt. Lowry of Southport, Me., arrived at Boston yesterday with a load of 2005 lobsters caught on Cashes bank in the ordinary traps.

The men made only eight hauls with 100 traps before they had the vessel loaded. The depth was about six fathoms and the bottom was rocky, with also considerable kelp.

The news of this catch caused much surprise on T wharf, but in a short time it is expected that there will be many boats out on the banks looking for lobsters.

The one drawback to lobster fishing on Cashes bank, however, is that it lies directly in the path of the big steamers and there is usually much fog in the vicinity.

Capt. Lowry said that during his short stay there he was fortunate enough to escape thick weather.

John G. Cox of Boston, one of the best posted men in the lobster industry, said:

"This inauguration of deep-sea lobster fishing means more than any one can imagine now. It means that the trade may be revolutionized, and that lobsters will now be fished for and caught out at sea instead of along shore, as has always been the custom."

Capt. Lawry, of the Atwood, said that he had 100 traps, that he had set them 75 miles from shore, pulled them eight times and caught 2005 lobsters. He said that he would have caught more had this not been the shedding season, when the lobsters are in hiding.

MACKEREL TRIPS TODAY

Capt. Solomon Jacobs Struck Good Haul on Georges.

Sch. Effie M. Prior at This Port with Splendid Salt Fare.

Sch. A. M. Nicholson, Capt. Solomon Jacobs, is at Boston today with a dandy fare of 15,000 large fresh mackerel which were taken on Georges on Tuesday. He has also 60 barrels of salt mackerel which will probably be brought here. The fresh mackerel sold at 20 cents each.

Sch. Lizzie M. Stanley was at Boston yesterday afternoon with 4000 large fish, which met a ready sale at 22 cents each.

Sch. Effie M. Prior is at this port this morning with a fine trip of salt mackerel taken on Georges in the vicinity where Capt. Jacobs struck his school. They were purchased by the Gloucester Mackerel Company at $15 and $15.50 a barrel.

Sch. Muriel brought her salt mackerel fare of 115 barrels from Boston to this port and sch. Indiana has 40 barrels, both of which fares remain unsold.

Will Pack Herring.

Owing to the fact that there is no demand for bait at Newburyport, the Ling Packing Co. of that city will commence to pack herring, there being plenty in the river.

PUBLIC MEETING.

Newfoundland Fishermen Will Consider Herring Matters.

Considerable Excitement Regarding Atty-General's Resignation.

A despatch from St. John's, N. F., says: Considerable excitement prevails throughout this colony as a result of the cabinet crisis precipitated by the action of Atty.-Gen. Morris yesterday in resigning his portfolio on account of a difference with Premier Bond over the rate of pay of laborer on public works. Gov. Sir William MacGregor, who was immediately recalled from the west coast, where he was about to start on a fishing trip with Earl Grey, governor-general of Canada, arrived here today. It is understood that the governor probably will accept Mr. Morris' resignation. Premier Bond has not yet indicated his plans for filling the vacancy. There is much interest in a report that Mr. Morris may attempt to form a new political party in the colony.

Discussion of the herring fisheries situation continues without abatement, particularly in the fishing colony on the west coast. The fishermen are preparing to hold a public meeting to consider the conditions which would result in case the American vessel owners should decide to bring full crews with them to the fishing grounds next season, instead of hiring men here. This would throw about 800 men out of their customary employment at the busiest time of year. The fishermen hope that some agreement can be reached with the American government which will make such a step unnecessary for the American ship owners.

July 26.

WHOLE CREW ARRESTED.

Body of Cook Said To Show Signs of Torture.

Declaring that the body of the cook of the French fish steamer Chateau Lafite bears evidence of barbarous torture, the authorities at St. Pierre, Miq., have taken into custody the entire crew of the steamer pending an investigation. The cook's body was found upon the vessel, and upon making an examination of it, evidence was found that the man had been brutally tortured before he died. The captain and crew were arrested, and the matter was brought before the courts. The Chateau Lafite is a schooner-rigged iron steamer of 2110 tons and hails from Bordeaux, France, and had a large cargo of fish.

The fish are selling at 16 cents each for large and 10 cents for mediums.

July 26.

BIG HORSE MACKEREL.

Several Large Fish Landed at Newport.

The landing of 6154 pounds of horse mackerel at Newport yesterday for shipment to the Boston and Newport markets attracted a large gathering of persons this morning when the fishing steamer F. S. Willard, owned by Capt. John M. Brownell, and in charge of Capt. Adolphus B. Brownell of Portsmouth, R. I., came in.

The average weight of the fish was 474 pounds and they were caught off Narragansett Pier in a moderate sea, but were landed with considerable difficulty.

ANOTHER FINE FARE.

Sch. Fame Makes Second Mackerel Trip in a Week.

Records Show Fresh and Salt Catch Ahead of Last Year.

Sch. Fame, Capt. Augustus G. Hall, arrived at this port this forenoon, from off Chatham with a fine haul of 15,000 large fresh mackerel. The Fame only sailed from here Wednesday forenoon, so Capt. Hall got his fare in quick time. He reports two other seiners taking small hauls and salting.

The harbor traps are all taking mackerel daily, but the trap men are greatly bothered in getting them by the whiting, which fairly fill the traps, making it hard to get at the mackerel.

The fresh mackerel of sch. Fame sold to the Gloucester Fresh Fish Co., at 15 cents each.

The fare of sch. Muriel sold to Fred Bradley at $15 per barrel, barrel for barrel.

Sch. Muriel, Capt. Jason Daley stocked $3580 on her recent seining trip, the crew sharing $92.10.
